What will be Done with Slavery.

A correspondent who writes a long communication to the Democrat, is in great distress at the prospect of slavery being interfered with in the states when the republicans come into power, as he thinks they will. We advise him to wait and see.—There is no use in putting himself in torment before his time comes. One thing is certain, his beloved institution will leave the territories as soon as the republicans get the power in the executive and legislative departments of the government. We think, as we have power under the constitution to make all needful rules and regulations respecting the territories, it is "needful" that an institution so barbarous in its nature and so opposed to the welfare of the people, should be prohibited wherever the national government has the power. We have too strong faith in the rights of the states to advocate for one moment the doctrine that the nation can abolish slavery in the states where it now exists. We mean, however, to starve the institution out in the states, if it can be done, by closing up all avenues for expansion, and by cutting off entirely the African slave trade. This was the policy of Washington and Jefferson, and this was their object, as we learn by their writings. If any democrat, having come to the conclusion that the republicans will be successful, desires to know what they will do, and what will be their policy, let him read the writings of Jefferson, Madison, and the early republicans. We mean to bring back the government to the policy of the fathers of the republic. That is our object.

This correspondent is not troubled about the encroachments of the supreme court.—He does not, it would seem, care if that court so changes the constitution that slavery must be protected in the free states. He is not alarmed at the prospective legalization of property in man in Wisconsin, by that court, following out its Dred Scott decision to its legitimate results. His great fear is for the south—he is alarmed for the safety of slavery, but has not a thought for freedom. We think, like Larrabee, if lived in the south, he would own slaves; and that he may follow his inclinations, we advise him to leave for that congenial region, as soon as possible.

THIRD DISTRICT.—The canvass in the 3d congressional district will be an active one. Judge Sloan, the republican candidate, has partially filled out his list of appointments, and speaks to-day at Hartford. Senator Doolittle commenced at La Crosse last Friday, and closes on the 13th of October at Newberg. Mr. Codding spoke at Ripon last Saturday, and has 22 other appointments, closing at Trempeleau on the 14th of October. Hon. A. B. Jackson, one of Mr. Sloan's competitors for the nomin tion, has a list of 26 appointments, and Gen. Nye of New York, will go into the district and give his aid to an old friend and neighbor.

While this work is going on, and the best feeling prevails among the republicans, no inconsiderable degree of dissatisfaction exists among the democrats with Mr. Larrabee. The prospect of Mr. Sloan's election looks fair.

☞ The republican gathering at Erie on the 12th, was grand beyond all comparison in that region. The whole north-western part of the state seems to have emptied itself upon Erie, and the lowest computation puts the number at 30,000! The people were out in their might from all the counties in that quarter of the state, and the enthusiasm that prevailed was almost boundless.

Hon. Simon Cameron presided, and speeches were made by Cassius M. Clay, Gov. Reeder, Hon. A. G. Curtin, and quite a number of others.

City Bonds.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Mr. Sleeper says, in his communication of Saturday, relative to the suit on these bonds, that when any decision has been had in the case, "some notice has appeared in the public prints calculated to soften the fall of the bond holders and create a fear in the minds of our citizens that something was going to happen to fix the liability of the city to pay these bonds."

I don't think the fall of the bond holders in this case will need much "softening." They are certainly able to endure all such falls. I think it is the fall of the city that needs softening, for it has fallen a great distance and very heavily.

There are eighty-seven bonds of $1,000 each outstanding, issued to the Valley road. These bonds are held by various parties who bought them relying upon the faith of the city which was pledged for their payment. In some cases persons of slender means have bought them, paying almost par. No one questions that the Valley road, which these bonds were issued to aid, has benefitted this city twice the amount of its bonds. And no one questions our ability to pay, for our taxable property is assessed at about $2,000,000, and is worth twice that sum.

And yet this city repudiates these bonds. Not because the road has not benefitted the city, not because she is unable to pay, but simply because the city was mistaken as to the condition of the road to which these bonds were issued. If the credit of the Valley road had been beyond question, there would have been no need of issuing city bonds. If any man were to give his note to his neighbor to get discounted for the purpose of aiding him, with the understanding that the neighbor was to pay the note when due, I suppose all men would say that the maker should in honor pay his note at maturity, even if the person to whom he gave it had become insolvent;—that he should pay it because when he gave it he intended third parties should purchase it, relying upon the promise it contained and the faith it pledged. So this city intended the world should rely upon the faith it pledged for the payment of these bonds, regardless of the condition of the Valley road. If the city was cheated by the Valley road, who should suffer,—this city, who deliberately contracted to pay these bonds, and who expected to rely upon the Valley road for indemnity, or the innocent holder who purchased upon the strength of the public faith of the city?

This repudiation has disgraced this city, and to-day, abundantly able as she is to pay all her debts, her bonds for educational purposes cannot be sold for seventy-five cents on the dollar. They were hawked about the eastern market by a late mayor, and spurned by every capitalist. They had no confidence in our public faith. And so it will be for a long time to come, and so it ought to be. I suspect that it is the fall of the city that needs softening.

I herewith furnish you with the decision of the supreme court on the Madison bonds. From this your readers can see what has been decided on the point of subsequent ratification.

But Mr. Sleeper says the common council could not issue valid bonds without a vote of the people. In Knox Co. vs Aspinwall, 21 How. 539, where the act authorized a county to subscribe stock if the voters at an election to be held should decide so to do, the supreme court of United States decided that those dealing in the bonds of the county were not bound to look beyond the face of the bonds to see if the conditions upon which the act authorized the subscription to be made had been complied with; that it was sufficient if the act authorized the issuing the bonds upon certain conditions, and the bonds recited that they were executed and issued in pursuance of the act. Our supreme court, in the suit on our city bonds, expressly affirmed this doctrine of the supreme court of the United States.

Judge Orton, who decided the case at Jefferson, thought there was no difference between the Madison bonds and the Janesville bonds so far as the question of ratification was concerned, and that Mr. Sleeper's position was not sound. To this I have only to add that, Judge Orton after deciding against the city on the only point in the case, beat the plaintiffs and decided the action upon a distinction which I believe Mr. Sleeper agrees with me does not exist. If the city is satisfied with its prospects of success, the plaintiffs are also satisfied. I regard the case as already decided by the supreme court.

GEO. B. ELY.

Simeon Mills respondent, against Ezra H. Gleason, Treasurer, &c., appellant.

In the case of Clark vs. the city of Janesville, the majority of the court held that the charter of that city was a public, and therefore a general law, within the meaning of the constitutional provision that no general law should be in force till published. The charter of the city of Madison was not published until after the issue of the bonds, whose validity is questioned in this suit, and the case would therefore be governed by that decision, unless as is claimed on the other side, the city after it did acquire an existence as such by the publication of the charter, did some act ratifying the issue of the bonds so as to bind itself. This ground of objection, is one of a technical character, and although it must prevail where the case comes within it, yet a stronger case could not well be presented for applying the doctrine that a subsequent ratification will render valid acts that in point of strict law were unauthorized when they were done. This is a familiar rule in the case of individuals. If a man without any authority assumes to act as the agent of another, although the act, as to the other, is of no validity, yet if he subsequently ratifies it and adopts it, and receives the benefit of it, he is as much bound as though he had authorized it in the first instance, and we think this principle applicable to this case.

Here everything was done necessary to authorize the issuing of the bonds, except the publication of the charter, all the parties, however, supposing it to be in force. If after it was in force the city received the proceeds and appropriated them to its use, and recognized the validity of these bonds, we could not well imagine a case more fit for the application of this rule. And we think the following authorities fully justify its application: Charitable Society vs. Episcopal Church in Dedham, 1 Pick 172, Edwards vs. The Grand Junction Railway Company 7th Sim. 85, and Gooday vs. Railway Company 15 E. L. & Eq. 596. In the last case, the master of the rolls, referring to the previous cases, says that they "establish the principle that whenever a third party enters into a contract with the plaintiff, and the defendant takes the benefit of it, he is bound to give the plaintiff the advantage he has contracted for. Upon looking into the cases it will be seen that the rule was established upon these facts. The projectors of a railway company had made contracts prior to its organization, which the company when organized, received the benefit of. And it was held that they thereby became bound by the contract.—The facts in this case are similar in character, or if anything stronger in favor of the rule, for here the parties all acted in the full belief that the charter was in force.

It appears from the evidence that the proceeds of the bonds went into the treasury of the city, and were expended by it, and that after the charter was in force, their validity was recognized by levying a tax for the payment of the interest. We think this ratifies them and binds the city, provided it would have been bound if the charter had been in force at the time they were issued.

Late News.

Large quantities of wheat and rye have recently been bought in France and Austria by English speculators.

The people of New Mexico have held a convention to take measures to protect themselves from the depredations of the Indians, and have resolved to raise a thousand volunteers. There is so much dissention among the officers of the regular army in that territory, that no dependence can be placed upon them.

H. V. Johnson attended a Douglas meeting at Philadelphia on Saturday, but was so hoarse as to speak with difficulty. He will make a tour through the state of Pennsylvania, to enlighten the people, we suppose upon the policy of owning their laborers. A resolution was adopted at this meeting denouncing fusion and in favor of the straight Douglas ticket.

The Douglas sub-committee of the state of New York has declined the proposal of the Breckinridgers to put ten of their men upon the electoral ticket. The latter have published an address declaring that they will support their own ticket with all the energy they can command.

Walker, the fillibuster, and his army have been captured at Truxillo, by the British war steamer Icarus and delivered over to the people of Honduras. Walker und Col. Rudley were to be shot.

There are efforts made in California to unite the Douglas and Bell-Everett forces upon one ticket. The principal counties in the state have nominated members of the legislature, and the Douglas men are all pledged against Gwin.

The vigilance committee at Pike's Peak are waging war against the gamblers. Two were hung on the 6th.

There was a terrible storm at New Orleans, and along the gulf as far as Pensacola, on Saturday. Several lives were lost, and property to the amount of $500,000 destroyed.

Boardman, Gray & Co.'s piano factory at Albany was destroyed on Saturday night. Loss $50,000, covered by insurance.

While a republican meeting was being held at Hannibal, Mo., Tuesday night, at which Frank Blair was speaking, repeated attempts were made to interrupt it by throwing rocks and eggs at the speakers, and by hurrahing for Douglas, Bell and Everett, and Breckenridge.

The steamer Gazelle was lost, on the rocks near Eagle Harbor, in Lake Superior, on the 10th inst. Loss $40,000—no insurance.

The entries at the National Fair, at Cincinnati, on Saturday, amounted to nearly 6,000.

Miramon is still at the city of Mexico with an army of 7,000 men. Fourteen thousand liberals were marching against him.

The dwelling of Rufus Gordon, one mile east of Corning, New York, was burned on the 16th. A son of Mr. Gordon, aged 23 years, perished in the flames.

Gen. Jo Lane is in Indiana, looking up votes.

One hundred and twenty-four bodies of the victims of the Lady Elgin disaster have been recovered.

☞ When the democracy are badly beaten in any of the state, they forthwith blazon their defeat as a great gain. The Chicago Times and Herald says there were large gains for the democracy at the recent election in Maine, where the republicans have a majority of 20,000; and proceeds to extract an immense amount of comfort from the circumstance. We trust they will meet with similar success in every state in the Union.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald pretends to have discovered a tremendous plot on the part of Lincoln's friends to take possession of the general government and turn out of public employment, neck and heels, the pro-slavery democracy of the country! We are inclined to think there is some truth in it, and that there are a great many people engaged in it. They propose to make their first demonstration on the 6th of November next. That will be a dreadful day for the democracy.

ONE THOUSAND ORPHANS.—The Milwaukee Sentinel says, there are now about a thousand orphans in that city, rendered so by the Lady Elgin calamity. Many of these children are thrown upon the charity of the community.

☞ I. E. Messmore, Esq., has been nominated by the republicans to represent the La Crosse assembly district in our state legislature.

ANOTHER ACCESSION.—Peter V. Sang, of Fond du Lac county, who has been an active working democaat for eighteen years, declares his intention to vote for Lincoln and Hamlin, next November.

Many who would not for the world utter a falsehood, are yet eternally scheming to produce false impressions on the minds of others, respecting facts, characters, and opinions.

A MAN SENTENCED TO BE HUNG FOR CIRCULATING THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE.—Some time since a very respectable and well known citizen of St. Louis, named Henry A. Marsh, established a news depot at some point in Texas. Subsequently he established other depots in Camden, Ark., and Memphis, Tenn. A few days since he received an order at his Camden depot for fifty copies of the New York Tribune. As a matter of business, Marsh undertook to fill the order, and the package arrived in due course of time, while he was absent at Memphis. It having been noised about Camden that the Tribune was about being circulated, through the medium—indirectly however—of Marsh, a committee of three men was appointed to go after Mr. Marsh and bring him back to Camden. Accordingly they proceeded on their mission, and, one night, captured their unsuspecting victim, in Memphis, and conveyed him on board a steamer, and locked him in a state room. The captain of the steamer, on learning their intention, refused to convey the party, and they were obliged to convey their captive across the river in a yawl. Arriving in Camden, Mr Marsh was arraigned on the charge of circulating seditious and incendary documents, was convicted and sentenced to be hung. Time was, however, given him to send for his wife, and permission granted him to procure from citizens of St. Louis a certificate of former good character, respectability and loyalty. The wife of Mr. Marsh arrived in this city, en route for Camden, and is stopping at Barnum's Hotel, awaiting the completion of a petition already signed by many well known citizens, of all political parties, for the relief of the unfortunate man, whose only crime is embraced in the faithful discharge of his business relations. Mrs. Marsh will leave for Camden to-day with the petition numerously signed, with the heartfelt prayer of the citizens of St. Louis for the safety of her husband from the hands of his fanatical fire-eating captors.—St. Louis Democrat.

THE PRINCE OF WALES AND THE ORANGEMEN.—The orangemen of Canada West, who are bitter enemies of the Roman Catholics, have caused the Prince of Wales some trouble in his tour. Inasmuch as the Catholics in Quebec, Montreal and other places had been permitted to figure in the receptions, with a display of the insignia of their religion, these Orangemen, who have special decorations of orange and blue for public occasions, thought to make a counter demonstration at Toronto, Kingston, and a few other towns. In consequence, the prince refused to land at these places, whereat there was intense indignation among the Orangemen. Perhaps it would have been better in the first place not to have permitted the Catholics to have made any special demonstration as such. The feud between the Orangemen and the Catholic Irish is as deep and lasting as an Indian's revenge, and the Prince's advisers did the next best thing when they discountenanced the Orange demonstration. Subsequently the matter was arranged, the Orangemen subsided, and the Prince went to Toronto, and laid a foundation stone for a statute to the Queen.

LADY BYRON'S HEIR.—The London correspondent of the Manchester Guardian writes as follows:

I happened in a recent letter to mention the curious fact that the son and heir of Lord Lovelace, now by Lady Byron's death, Baron Wentworth, and heir to the very large landed property bequeathed by the poet's widow, is now working at Woolwich Arsenal, as a smith, at weekly wages. My friend of the Independence Belge, in an almost textual translation of the whole letter which contained this paragraph, heightens the interest of this statement about the grandson of Lord Byron, by adding: "His pay is thirty shillings a week. I have seen him at work in the shop with as much pluck and industry as any of his mates.—Between ourselves, there is at the bottom—or rather at the top—of this eccentric proceeding a young and pretty girl of the lower orders, whom his lordship is unwilling to abandon, even to live in the highest and most envied sphere of society."

I need hardly say that this is pure invention on the part of my indefatigable translator. There is no "young and pretty girl of the lower orders" in the affair at all. The young nobleman in qnestion ran away from school at an early age, was missing for several years, in spite of large rewards offered for the discovery of him, bound himself apprentice to a coaster, underwent much hardship in the miserable position of cabin boy aboard a north country collier, was even at one time reduced to the workhouse at a little town in Yorkshire; and finally, when discovered by his relatives, preferred to win his bread by the work of his hands as a boltmaker at Woolwich arsenal, where he is still, or was very recently, working. He often, while in this employment, walked up to Lord Byron's seat, near Ham, and remained over Sunday, his day of leisure, as a guest, but always was careful to return to Woolwich in time to begin his work on Monday morning. I may add that though I have not seen him at work in the arsenal, a near relative of mine has seen him on the trudge from Woolwich to Ham—a fine, stout, handsome young man—in blue pea jacket, long boots, and a wide-awake, with a short pipe stuck through the band.

THE HAIR.—One of the most elegant compounds for promoting the growth of hair, says M. Cap, is beef marrow, 2 ounces; spirituous extract of cartharides (made by evaporating the tincture) 8 grains; rose oil 1 drachm; essence of lemon 50 drops.—This should be rubbed on the head or scalp twice a day until it becomes sore, then not quite so often. General Twiggs' very popular hair wash is:—sulphur lotum, 1 ounce; sugar of lead, ½ ounce; rose water, 4 ounces. Shake the above, apply it and rub your hair twice or three times a week. The above will restore hair prematurely grey.

Insurance against loss or damage by fire, on Dwellings, Furniture, Stores, Warehouses, Merchandise, Mills, Manufactories, and most other kinds of property, can be effected in this company upon as favorable terms as the nature of the risks and security of policy-holders will admit.

The above is the oldest company doing business in this state, and with peculiar propriety has been denominated "The Old Hartford." As an indemnity to the insured, it refers to a solid million of assets well invested; and if anything were needed to commend it to the public for liberal patronage, we might offer its history of success in business and honorable dealing with its patrons, for over half a century, as amply sufficient for the purpose.

THE above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt paying companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solvency and reliability and honorable dealing, they have but few equals, and no superiors. They are founded upon the very best securities in the world—first class bonds and mortgages upon property in New York and Brooklyn—securities that have not, for the past ten years, depreciated below par, and are every way more reliable and permanent than railroad, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable, in times of panic, as the experience of the past teaches, to become almost, if not entirely, valueless. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calculated to mislead by publishing partial and one-sided statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to reinsure their outstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital twice the amount, and in most instances four times, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage.

Policies issued without delay, and farms risks for a series of years taken at less rates than can be done by Mutual Companies, and a certainty given instead of an uncertainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid.

New York Life Insurance Company,
CASH CAPITAL OVER - - $1,900,000

DAILY GAZETTE.

A GOOD STORY.—In the fall of 1847, a young man came to this city in quest of employment. After weeks of unsuccessful search, he found himself without a prospect of employment, and considerably in debt for board. In despair, he made arrangements for disposing of his clothes by auction, in order to defray his expenses, when a letter was sent to him containing a twenty dollar bill, and directing him to apply for the situation of card-stripper, to one of the overseers of the corporations. The letter requested him to sign a note of hand for the amount loaned, and place it in a certain unoccupied box in the post office, where it would be called for by the lender. This young man did as directed, and received the situation, the overseer stating that it was secured for him at the earnest solicitation of a young lady. Years passed away, and all attempts to discover the creditor proved unavailing. The young man prospered in business, and at length plighted his affectins to an amiable young lady with whom he had become acquainted.—On the day before their marriage, he received a letter requesting him to call at a certain place and pay the note of twenty dollars, with interest, which he had signed some years before. Anxious to settle an indebtness which, from the mystery of the whole affair, had occasioned him many hours of unhappiness, he hastened to the place indicated, and was ushered by the domestic into a parlor, where, to his astonishment, he discovered in the person of his unknown benefactor, the lady with whom upon the next day, he was about to unite his earthly fortunes. It was her first business transaction, and the partnership which followed, bids fair to continue happily thro' life.—Lowell Paper.

PRESIDENTIAL PROSPECTS IN CALIFORNIA.—Letters from San Francisco communicate the intelligence that there is a strong probability that the state will go for Lincoln. Since the death of Broderick there has been a general disruption of the anti-Lecompton democracy, and nine-tenths of the party have joined the republicans.—They are disgusted with the truckling to the slave power, evinced by Douglas ever since the meeting of the Charleston convention. Thousands of adopted citizens, especially Germans, who have uniformly voted the straight democratic ticket, are now members of the republican organization. In San Francisco a German Wide Awake club has been formed, which numbers its members by thousands, and throughout the interior of the state the bone and sinew of the country is rallying around the standard of freedom. The present prospect is that Douglas has a majority of the old democracy, but in the end it is probable that the federal office holders, backed by the chivalry party who killed Broderick, the patronage of the government, and all the county organizations in their hands, will beat Douglas at the polls, while the Bell-Everettites, composed of old line whigs and Americans, who have opposed the republicans and voted the democratic ticket, will draw enough from the strength of each of the contending factions to give the state to Lincoln. We have many assurances to that effect; while Oregon is conceded by everybody who has the slightest knowledge of politics on the Pacific coast.—St. Louis Democrat.

DOGS.—In the pleasant town of F——, in New England, lived a family who, being of a different religious persuasion, usually attended the sole village meeting house indeed, but with no very strict punctuality.—They had a pet dog who much more regularly heeded the sound of the church-going bell, and with or without the family, every Sunday seated himself in the family pew. Among the preachers whose relations to the pastor were such as to entitle him to an occasional exchange of pulpits, was the Rev. Mr. C——, an exceedingly dull, prosy preacher. On one occasion, the family preferred to remain at home in the morning, but in the afternoon went to church, the dog, to their surprise, not only showing no inclination to go, but persistently refusing to follow. On arriving at the church the lady discovered the reason why the dog stayed at home. The Rev. Mr. C. preached, and one sermon from him was as much as the dog could endure in one day.—Summit County Beacon.

THE TONGUE SCRAPER.—One practical hint may not be out of place here. It seems to be sometimes forgotten by those who must know the fact that the tongue is very different, anatomically and physiologically, from the stomach. Its condition does not in the least imply that of the stomach, which is of a very different structure, covered with a different epithelium, and furnished with entirely different secretions.—A silversmith will for a dollar, make a small hoe of solid silver, which will last for centuries, and will give a patient more comfort used for the removal of the accumulated epithelium and fungous growths which constitute the "fur" than many a prescription with a split footed R before it, addressed to the parts out of reach. I think more of this little implement because I consider that the use of it, or something like it, saved the colony of Plymouth in the year 1623. Edward Winslow heard that Massasoit was sick and like to die. He found him with a house full of people about him, women rubbing his arms and legs, and friends "making such a hellish noise," as they probably thought would scare away the devil of sickness. A case of typhoid fever, clearly, with prostration, stupor, epistaxis and frightful sordes. Winslow gave him some conserve, washed his mouth, scraped his tongue, which was in a horrid state, got down some drink, made him some broth, dosed him with an infusion of strawberry leaves and sassafras root, and had the satisfaction of seeing him rapidly recover. Massasoit, full of gratitude, revealed the plot which had been formed to destroy the colonists, whereupon the governor ordered Capt. Miles Standish to see to them; who thereupon as everybody remembers, stabbed Pecksnot with his own knife, broke up the plot, saved the colony, and thus rendered Massachusetts and the Massachusetts medical society a possibility, as they now are a fact before us. So much for this parenthasis of the tongue scraper, which saved the young colony from a much more serious scrape, and may save the Union yet, if a presidential candidate should happen to be taken sick as Massasoit was, and his tongue wanted cleaning—which process would not hurt a good many politicians with or without a typhoid fever.—Dr. Holmes.

QUARRY OF FREESTONE,

which promises to surpass anything yet found in the state, as well as add to the many already developed resources of our city,

A Beautiful, Cheap and Durable Building Material,

He has made arrangements to work this, together with the justly celebrated

Monterey Lime Stone Quarry, on a scale equal to the demands of our enterprising citizens, and in order to accommodate his numerous customers, he has made arrangements to keep constantly on hand a large supply of

ATHENS MARBLE

(or Chicago stone.) He is now fitting up extensive saw and scouring mills, and other machinery necessary for working the same, at a great reduction from former prices.

He also wishes to call attention to the fact that sound cutting or dimension stone can only be found at great distances from the surface, and that the Monterey Quarry is the only one in this county that has been worked far enough to reach those formations that are imperishable when exposed to the action of air and frost.

He is also supplying his Quarry with Derricks to facilitate the handling and loading large stone, and is fitting up expensive wagons, carts and trucks, rigged with the most approved appliances for moving and delivering dimension stone of any size, from two to thirty feet square, and from six to twenty inches thick, or any required length up to one hundred feet, to any part of the city or on board of the cars.

He is prepared to furnish stone of the best quality in the state, all of which will be delivered at his Quarries or any part of the city, to suit purchasers.

In conclusion, he begs to assure the public that from the superior quality of his materials, and facilities for furnishing, he can and will make it to their interests to patronize the Monterey Quarries.

Insurance against loss or damage by fire, on Dwellings, Furniture, Stores, Warehouses, Merchandise, Mills, Manufactories, and most other kinds of property, can be effected in this company upon as favorable terms as the nature of the risks and security of policy-holders will admit.

The above is the oldest company doing business in this state, and with peculiar propriety has been denominated "The Old Hartford." As an indemnity to the insured, it refers to a solid million of assets well invested; and if anything were needed to commend it to the public for liberal patronage, we might offer its history of success in business and honorable dealing with its patrons, for over half a century, as amply sufficient for the purpose.

The solid service long and successfully tried, and the many advantages the Ætna Insurance Company possess in its line, should not be overlooked by those ready to insure and understanding their bests interests.

During "stringent times" the necessity for reliable Insurance becomes an imperative duty—the ability of property holders to sustain loss being then much lessened.

THE above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt paying companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solvency and reliability and honorable dealing, they have but few equals, and no superiors. They are founded upon the very best securities in the world—first class bonds and mortgages upon property in New York and Brooklyn—securities that have not, for the past ten years, depreciated below par, and are every way more reliable and permanent than railroad, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable, in times of panic, as the experience of the past teaches, to become almost, if not entirely, valueless. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calculated to mislead by publishing partial and one-sided statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to reinsure their outstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital twice the amount, and in most instances four times, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage.

Policies issued without delay, and farms risks for a series of years taken at less rates than can be done by Mutual Companies, and a certainty given instead of an uncertainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid.

New York Life Insurance Company,
CASH CAPITAL OVER - - $1,900,000

all well invested for the benefit of Policy holders, so that the profits of this vast sum pay a large proportion of their annual premiums. This is unquestionably the very best Life Company doing business in this state.

DAILY GAZETTE.

A GOOD STORY.—In the fall of 1847, a young man came to this city in quest of employment. After weeks of unsuccessful search, he found himself without a prospect of employment, and considerably in debt for board. In despair, he made arrangements for disposing of his clothes by auction, in order to defray his expenses, when a letter was sent to him containing a twenty dollar bill, and directing him to apply for the situation of card-stripper, to one of the overseers of the corporations. The letter requested him to sign a note of hand for the amount loaned, and place it in a certain unoccupied box in the post office, where it would be called for by the lender. This young man did as directed, and received the situation, the overseer stating that it was secured for him at the earnest solicitation of a young lady. Years passed away, and all attempts to discover the creditor proved unavailing. The young man prospered in business, and at length plighted his affectins to an amiable young lady with whom he had become acquainted.—On the day before their marriage, he received a letter requesting him to call at a certain place and pay the note of twenty dollars, with interest, which he had signed some years before. Anxious to settle an indebtness which, from the mystery of the whole affair, had occasioned him many hours of unhappiness, he hastened to the place indicated, and was ushered by the domestic into a parlor, where, to his astonishment, he discovered in the person of his unknown benefactor, the lady with whom upon the next day, he was about to unite his earthly fortunes. It was her first business transaction, and the partnership which followed, bids fair to continue happily thro' life.—Lowell Paper.

PRESIDENTIAL PROSPECTS IN CALIFORNIA.—Letters from San Francisco communicate the intelligence that there is a strong probability that the state will go for Lincoln. Since the death of Broderick there has been a general disruption of the anti-Lecompton democracy, and nine-tenths of the party have joined the republicans.—They are disgusted with the truckling to the slave power, evinced by Douglas ever since the meeting of the Charleston convention. Thousands of adopted citizens, especially Germans, who have uniformly voted the straight democratic ticket, are now members of the republican organization. In San Francisco a German Wide Awake club has been formed, which numbers its members by thousands, and throughout the interior of the state the bone and sinew of the country is rallying around the standard of freedom. The present prospect is that Douglas has a majority of the old democracy, but in the end it is probable that the federal office holders, backed by the chivalry party who killed Broderick, the patronage of the government, and all the county organizations in their hands, will beat Douglas at the polls, while the Bell-Everettites, composed of old line whigs and Americans, who have opposed the republicans and voted the democratic ticket, will draw enough from the strength of each of the contending factions to give the state to Lincoln. We have many assurances to that effect; while Oregon is conceded by everybody who has the slightest knowledge of politics on the Pacific coast.—St. Louis Democrat.

DOGS.—In the pleasant town of F—, in New England, lived a family who, being of a different religious persuasion, usually attended the sole village meeting house indeed, but with no very strict punctuality.—They had a pet dog who much more regularly heeded the sound of the church-going bell, and with or without the family, every Sunday seated himself in the family pew. Among the preachers whose relations to the pastor were such as to entitle him to an occasional exchange of pulpits, was the Rev. Mr. C—, an exceedingly dull, prosy preacher. On one occasion, the family preferred to remain at home in the morning, but in the afternoon went to church, the dog, to their surprise, not only showing no inclination to go, but persistently refusing to follow. On arriving at the church the lady discovered the reason why the dog stayed at home. The Rev. Mr. C. preached, and one sermon from him was as much as the dog could endure in one day.—Summit County Beacon.

THE TONGUE SCRAPER.—One practical hint may not be out of place here. It seems to be sometimes forgotten by those who must know the fact that the tongue is very different, anatomically and physiologically, from the stomach. Its condition does not in the least imply that of the stomach, which is of a very different structure, covered with a different epithelium, and furnished with entirely different secretions.—A silversmith will for a dollar, make a small hoe of solid silver which will last for centuries, and will give a patient more comfort used for the removal of the accumulated epithelium and fungous growths which constitute the "fur" than many a prescription with a split footed R before it, addressed to the parts out of reach. I think more of this little implement because I consider that the use of it, or something like it, saved the colony of Plymouth in the year 1623. Edward Winslow heard that Massasoit was sick and like to die. He found him with a house full of people about him, women rubbing his arms and legs, and friends "making such a hellish noise," as they probably thought would scare away the devil of sickness. A case of typhoid fever, clearly, with prostration, stupor, epistaxis and frightful sordes. Winslow gave him some conserve, washed his mouth, scraped his tongue, which was in a horrid state, got down some drink, made him some broth, dosed him with an infusion of strawberry leaves and sassafras root, and had the satisfaction of seeing him rapidly recover. Massasoit, full of gratitude, revealed the plot which had been formed to destroy the colonists, whereupon the governor ordered Capt. Miles Standish to see to them; who thereupon as everybody remembers, stabbed Pecksnot with his own knife, broke up the plot, saved the colony, and thus rendered Massachusetts and the Massachusetts medical society a possibility, as they now are a fact before us. So much for this parenthasis of the tongue scraper, which saved the young colony from a much more serious scrape, and may save the Union yet, if a presidential candidate should happen to be taken sick as Massasoit was, and his tongue wanted cleaning—which process would not hurt a good many politicians with or without a typhoid fever.—Dr. Holmes'

☞ Judge Howe made a speech last Saturday evening at the wigwam in Chicago. E. P. Blair, Jr., and Mr. Yates, the republican candidate for governor of Illinois, were announced as the speakers.

He is also supplying his Quarry with Derricks to facilitate the handling and loading large stone, and is fitting up expensive wagons, carts and trucks, rigged with the most approved appliances for moving and delivering dimension stone of any size, from two to thirty feet square, and from six to twenty inches thick, or any required length up to one hundred feet, to any part of the city or on board of the cars.

What will be Done with Slavery.

A correspondent who writes a long communication to the Democrat, is in great distress at the prospect of slavery being interfered with in the states when the republicans come into power, as he thinks they will. We advise him to wait and see.—There is no use in putting himself in torment before his time comes. One thing is certain, his beloved institution will leave the territories as soon as the republicans get the power in the executive and legislative departments of the government. We think, as we have power under the constitution to make all needful rules and regulations respecting the territories, it is "needful" that an institution so barbarous in its nature and so opposed to the welfare of the people, should be prohibited wherever the national government has the power. We have too strong faith in the rights of the states to advocate for one moment the doctrine that the nation can abolish slavery in the states where it now exists. We mean, however, to starve the institution out in the states, if it can be done, by closing up all avenues for expansion, and by cutting off entirely the African slave trade. This was the policy of Washington and Jefferson, and this was their object, as we learn by their writings. If any democrat, having come to the conclusion that the republicans will be successful, desires to know what they will do, and what will be their policy, let him read the writings of Jefferson, Madison, and the early republicans. We mean to bring back the government to the policy of the fathers of the republic. That is our object.

This correspondent is not troubled about the encroachments of the supreme court.—He does not, it would seem, care if that court so changes the constitution that slavery must be protected in the free states. He is not alarmed at the prospective legalization of property in man in Wisconsin, by that court, following out its Dred Scott decision to its legitimate results. His great fear is for the south—he is alarmed for the safety of slavery, but has not a thought for freedom. We think, like Larrabee, if lived in the south, he would own slaves; and that he may follow his inclinations, we advise him to leave for that congenial region, as soon as possible.

THIRD DISTRICT.—The canvass in the 3d congressional district will be an active one. Judge Sloan, the republican candidate, has partially filled out his list of appointments, and speaks to-day at Hartford. Senator Doolittle commenced at La Crosse last Friday, and closes on the 13th of October at Newberg. Mr. Codding spoke at Ripon last Saturday, and has 22 other appointments, closing at Trempeleau on the 14th of October. Hon. A. B. Jackson, one of Mr. Sloan's competitors for the nomination, has a list of 26 appointments, and Gen. Nye of New York, will go into the district and give his aid to an old friend and neighbor.

While this work is going on, and the best feeling prevails among the republicans, no inconsiderable degree of dissatisfaction exists among the democrats with Mr. Larrabee. The prospect of Mr. Sloan's election looks fair.

☞ The republican gathering at Erie on the 12th, was grand beyond all comparison in that region. The whole north-western part of the state seems to have emptied itself upon Erie, and the lowest computation puts the number at 30,000! The people were out in their might from all the counties in that quarter of the state, and the enthusiasm that prevailed was almost boundless.

Hon. Simon Cameron presided, and speeches were made by Cassius M. Clay, Gov. Reeder, Hon. A. G. Curtin, and quite a number of others.

City Bonds.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Mr. Sleeper says, in his communication of Saturday, relative to the suit on these bonds, that when any decision has been had in the case, "some notice has appeared in the public prints calculated to soften the fall of the bond holders and create a fear in the minds of our citizens that something was going to happen to fix the liability of the city to pay these bonds."

I don't think the fall of the bond holders in this case will need much "softening." They are certainly able to endure all such falls. I think it is the fall of the city that needs softening, for it has fallen a great distance and very heavily.

There are eighty-seven bonds of $1,000 each outstanding, issued to the Valley road. These bonds are held by various parties who bought them relying upon the faith of the city which was pledged for their payment. In some cases persons of slender means have bought them, paying almost par. No one questions that the Valley road, which these bonds were issued to aid, has benefitted this city twice the amount of its bonds. And no one questions our ability to pay, for our taxable property is assessed at about $2,000,000, and is worth twice that sum.

And yet this city repudiates these bonds. Not because the road has not benefitted the city, not because she is unable to pay, but simply because the city was mistaken as to the condition of the road to which these bonds were issued. If the credit of the Valley road had been beyond question, there would have been no need of issuing city bonds. If any man were to give his note to his neighbor to get discounted for the purpose of aiding him, with the understanding that the neighbor was to pay the note when due, I suppose all men would say that the maker should in honor pay his note at maturity, even if the person to whom he gave it had become insolvent;—that he should pay it because when he gave it he intended third parties should purchase it, relying upon the promise it contained and the faith it pledged. So this city intended the world should rely upon the faith it pledged for the payment of these bonds, regardless of the condition of the Valley road. If the city was cheated by the Valley road, who should suffer,—this city, who deliberately contracted to pay these bonds, and who expected to rely upon the Valley road for indemnity, or the innocent holder who purchased upon the strength of the public faith of the city?

This repudiation has disgraced this city, and to-day, abundantly able as she is to pay all her debts, her bonds for educational purposes cannot be sold for seventy-five cents on the dollar. They were hawked about the eastern market by a late mayor, and spurned by every capitalist. They had no confidence in our public faith. And so it will be for a long time to come, and so it ought to be. I suspect that it is the fall of the city that needs softening.

I herewith furnish you with the decision of the supreme court on the Madison bonds. From this your readers can see what has been decided on the point of subsequent ratification.

But Mr. Sleeper says the common council could not issue valid bonds without a vote of the people. In Knox Co. vs Aspinwall, 21 How. 539, where the act authorized a county to subscribe stock if the voters at an election to be held should decide so to do, the supreme court of United States decided that those dealing in the bonds of the county were not bound to look beyond the face of the bonds to see if the conditions upon which the act authorized the subscription to be made had been complied with; that it was sufficient if the act authorized the issuing the bonds upon certain conditions, and the bonds recited that they were executed and issued in pursuance of the act. Our supreme court, in the suit on our city bonds, expressly affirmed this doctrine of the supreme court of the United States.

Judge Orton, who decided the case at Jefferson, thought there was no difference between the Madison bonds and the Janesville bonds so far as the question of ratification was concerned, and that Mr. Sleeper's position was not sound. To this I have only to add that, Judge Orton after deciding against the city on the only point in the case, beat the plaintiffs and decided the action upon a distinction which I believe Mr. Sleeper agrees with me does not exist. If the city is satisfied with its prospects of success, the plaintiffs are also satisfied. I regard the case as already decided by the supreme court.

GEO. B. ELY.

Simeon Mills respondent, against Ezra H. Gleason, Treasurer, &c., appellant.

In the case of Clark vs. the city of Janesville, the majority of the court held that the charter of that city was a public, and therefore a general law, within the meaning of the constitutional provision that no general law should be in force till published. The charter of the city of Madison was not published until after the issue of the bonds, whose validity is questioned in this suit, and the case would therefore be governed by that decision, unless as is claimed on the other side, the city after it did acquire an existence as such by the publication of the charter, did some act ratifying the issue of the bonds so as to bind itself. This ground of objection, is one of a technical character, and although it must prevail where the case comes within it, yet a stronger case could not well be presented for applying the doctrine that a subsequent ratification will render valid acts that in point of strict law were unauthorized when they were done. This is a familiar rule in the case of individuals. If a man without any authority assumes to act as the agent of another, although the act, as to the other, is of no validity, yet if he subsequently ratifies it and adopts it, and receives the benefit of it, he is as much bound as though he had authorized it in the first instance, and we think this principle applicable to this case.

Here everything was done necessary to authorize the issuing of the bonds, except the publication of the charter, all the parties, however, supposing it to be in force. If after it was in force the city received the proceeds and appropriated them to its use, and recognized the validity of these bonds, we could not well imagine a case more fit for the application of this rule. And we think the following authorities fully justify its application: Charitable Society vs. Episcopal Church in Dedham, 1 Pick 172, Edwards vs. The Grand Junction Railway Company 7th Sim. 85, and Goodday vs. Railway Company 15 E. L. & Eq. 596. In the last case, the master of the rolls, referring to the previous cases, says that they "establish the principle that whenever a third party enters into a contract with the plaintiff, and the defendant takes the benefit of it, he is bound to give the plaintiff the advantage he has contracted for. Upon looking into the cases it will be seen that the rule was established upon these facts. The projectors of a railway company had made contracts prior to its organization, which the company when organized, received the benefit of. And it was held that they thereby became bound by the contract.—The facts in this case are similar in character, or if anything stronger in favor of the rule, for here the parties all acted in the full belief that the charter was in force.

It appears from the evidence that the proceeds of the bonds went into the treasury of the city, and were expended by it, and that after the charter was in force, their validity was recognized by levying a tax for the payment of the interest. We think this ratifies them and binds the city, provided it would have been bound if the charter had been in force at the time they were issued.

Late News.

Large quantities of wheat and rye have recently been bought in France and Austria by English speculators.

The people of New Mexico have held a convention to take measures to protect themselves from the depredations of the Indians, and have resolved to raise a thousand volunteers. There is so much dissention among the officers of the regular army in that territory, that no dependence can be placed upon them.

H. V. Johnson attended a Douglas meeting at Philadelphia on Saturday, but was so hoarse as to speak with difficulty. He will make a tour through the state of Pennsylvania, to enlighten the people, we suppose upon the policy of owning their laborers. A resolution was adopted at this meeting denouncing fusion and in favor of the straight Douglas ticket.

The Douglas sub-committee of the state of New York has declined the proposal of the Breckinridgers to put ten of their men upon the electoral ticket. The latter have published an address declaring that they will support their own ticket with all the energy they can command.

☞ When the democracy are badly beaten in any of the state, they forthwith blazon their defeat as a great gain. The Chicago Times and Herald says there were large gains for the democracy at the recent election in Maine, where the republicans have a majority of 20,000; and proceeds to extract an immense amount of comfort from the circumstance. We trust they will meet with similar success in every state in the Union.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald pretends to have discovered a tremendous plot on the part of Lincoln's friends to take possession of the general government and turn out of public employment, neck and heels, the pro-slavery democracy of the country! We are inclined to think there is some truth in it, and that there are a great many people engaged in it. They propose to make their first demonstration on the 6th of November next. That will be a dreadful day for the democracy.

ONE THOUSAND ORPHANS.—The Milwaukee Sentinel says, there are now about a thousand orphans in that city, rendered so by the Lady Elgin calamity. Many of these children are thrown upon the charity of the community.

☞ I. E. Messmore, Esq., has been nominated by the republicans to represent the La Crosse assembly district in our state legislature.

ANOTHER ACCESSION.—Peter V. Sang, of Fond du Lac county, who has been an active working democrat for eighteen years, declares his intention to vote for Lincoln and Hamlin, next November.

A MAN SENTENCED TO BE HUNG FOR CIRCULATING THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE.—Some time since a very respectable and well known citizen of St. Louis, named Henry A. Marsh, established a news depot at some point in Texas. Subsequently he established other depots in Camden, Ark., and Memphis, Tenn. A few days since he received an order at his Camden depot for fifty copies of the New York Tribune. As a matter of business, Marsh undertook to fill the order, and the package arrived in due course of time, while he was absent at Memphis. It having been noised about Camden that the Tribune was about being circulated, through the medium—indirectly however—of Marsh, a committee of three men was appointed to go after Mr. Marsh and bring him back to Camden. Accordingly they proceeded on their mission, and, one night, captured their unsuspecting victim, in Memphis, and conveyed him on board a steamer, and locked him in a state room. The captain of the steamer, on learning their intention, refused to convey their captive across the river in a yawl. Arriving in Camden, Mr Marsh was arraigned on the charge of circulating seditious and incendary documents, was convicted and sentenced to be hung. Time was, however, given him to send for his wife, and permission granted him to procure from citizens of St. Louis a certificate of former good character, respectability and loyalty. The wife of Mr. Marsh arrived in this city, en route for Camden, and is stopping at Barnum's Hotel, awaiting the completion of a petition already signed by many well known citizens, of all political parties, for the relief of the unfortunate man, whose only crime is embraced in the faithful discharge of his business relations. Mrs. Marsh will leave for Camden to-day with the petition numerously signed, with the heartfelt prayer of the citizens of St. Louis for the safety of her husband from the hands of his fanatical fire-eating captors.—St. Louis Democrat.

THE PRINCE OF WALES AND THE ORANGEMEN.—The orangemen of Canada West, who are bitter enemies of the Roman Catholics, have caused the Prince of Wales some trouble in his tour. Inasmuch as the Catholics in Quebec, Montreal and other places had been permitted to figure in the receptions, with a display of the insignia of their religion, these Orangemen, who have special decorations of orange and blue for public occasions, thought to make a counter demonstration at Toronto, Kingston, and a few other towns. In consequence, the prince refused to land at these places, whereat there was intense indignation among the Orangemen. Perhaps it would have been better in the first place not to have permitted the Catholics to have made any special demonstration as such. The feud between the Orangemen and the Catholic Irish is as deep and lasting as an Indian's revenge, and the Prince's advisers did the next best thing when they discountenanced the Orange demonstration. Subsequently the matter was arranged, the Orangemen subsided, and the Prince went to Toronto, and laid a foundation stone for a statute to the Queen.

LADY BYRON'S HEIR.—The London correspondent of the Manchester Guardian writes as follows:

I happened in a recent letter to mention the curious fact that the son and heir of Lord Lovelace, now by Lady Byron's death, Baron Wentworth, and heir to the very large landed property bequeathed by the poet's widow, is now working at Woolwich Arsenal, as a smith, at weekly wages. My friend of the Independence Belge, in an almost textual translation of the whole letter which contained this paragraph, heightens the interest of this statement about the grandson of Lord Byron, by adding: "His pay is thirty shillings a week. I have seen him at work in the shop with as much pluck and industry as any of his mates.—Between ourselves, there is at the bottom—or rather at the top—of this eccentric proceeding a young and pretty girl of the lower orders, whom his lordship is unwilling to abandon, even to live in the highest and most envied sphere of society."

I need hardly say that this is pure invention on the part of my indefatigable translator. There is no "young and pretty girl of the lower orders" in the affair at all. The young nobleman in question ran away from school at an early age, was missing for several years, in spite of large rewards offered for the discovery of him, bound himself apprentice to a coaster, underwent much hardship in the miserable position of cabin boy aboard a north country collier, was even at one time reduced to the workhouse at a little town in Yorkshire; and finally, when discovered by his relatives, preferred to win his bread by the work of his hands as a boltmaker at Woolwich arsenal, where he is still, or was very recently, working. He often, while in this employment, walked up to Lord Byron's seat, near Ham, and remained over Sunday, his day of leisure, as a guest, but always was careful to return to Woolwich in time to begin his work on Monday morning. I may add that though I have not seen him at work in the arsenal, a near relative of mine has seen him on the trudge from Woolwich to Ham—a fine, stout, handsome young man—in blue pea jacket, long boots, and a wide-awake, with a short pipe stuck through the band.

THE HAIR.—One of the most elegant compounds for promoting the growth of hair, says M. Cap, is beef marrow, 2 ounces; spirituous extract of cartharides (made by evaporating the tincture) 8 grains; rose oil 1 drachm; essence of lemon 50 drops.—This should be rubbed on the head or scalp twice a day until it becomes sore, then not quite so often. General Twiggs' very popular hair wash is:—sulphur lotum, 1 ounce; sugar of lead, ½ ounce; rose water, 4 ounces. Shake the above, apply it and rub your hair twice or three times a week. The above will restore hair prematurely grey.

adopts the language of the gallant Scottish hero as his own, and defies the competition and braggart blowing of all the

of its kind in the state. That during that time other Clothing Stores have attempted to compete with it in this city, and one after another have busted. The proprietor of the

What will be Done with Slavery.

A correspondent who writes a long communication to the Democrat, is in great distress at the prospect of slavery being interfered with in the states when the republicans come into power, as he thinks they will. We advise him to wait and see.—There is no use in putting himself in torment before his time comes. One thing is certain, his beloved institution will leave the territories as soon as the republicans get the power in the executive and legislative departments of the government. We think, as we have power under the constitution to make all needful rules and regulations respecting the territories, it is "needful" that an institution so barbarous in its nature and so opposed to the welfare of the people, should be prohibited wherever the national government has the power. We have too strong faith in the rights of the states to advocate for one moment the doctrine that the nation can abolish slavery in the states where it now exists. We mean, however, to starve the institution out in the states, if it can be done, by closing up all avenues for expansion, and by cutting off entirely the African slave trade. This was the policy of Washington and Jefferson, and this was their object, as we learn by their writings. If any democrat, having come to the conclusion that the republicans will be successful, desires to know what they will do, and what will be their policy, let him read the writings of Jefferson, Madison, and the early republicans. We mean to bring back the government to the policy of the fathers of the republic. That is our object.

This correspondent is not troubled about the encroachments of the supreme court.—He does not, it would seem, care if that court so changes the constitution that slavery must be protected in the free states. He is not alarmed at the prospective legalization of property in man in Wisconsin, by that court, following out its Dred Scott decision to its legitimate results. His great fear is for the south—he is alarmed for the safety of slavery, but has not a thought for freedom. We think, like Larrabee, if lived in the south, he would own slaves; and that he may follow his inclinations, we advise him to leave for that congenial region, as soon as possible.

THIRD DISTRICT.—The canvass in the 3d congressional district will be an active one. Judge Sloan, the republican candidate, has partially filled out his list of appointments, and speaks to-day at Hartford. Senator Doolittle commenced at La Crosse last Friday, and closes on the 13th of October at Newberg. Mr. Codding spoke at Ripon last Saturday, and has 22 other appointments, closing at Trempeleau on the 14th of October. Hon. A. B. Jackson, one of Mr. Sloan's competitors for the nomin tion, has a list of 26 appointments, and Gen. Nye of New York, will go into the district and give his aid to an old friend and neighbor.

While this work is going on, and the best feeling prevails among the republicans, no inconsiderable degree of dissatisfaction exists among the democrats with Mr. Larrabee. The prospect of Mr. Sloan's election looks fair.

☞ The republican gathering at Erie on the 12th, was grand beyond all comparison in that region. The whole north-western part of the state seems to have emptied itself upon Erie, and the lowest computation puts the number at 30,000! The people were out in their might from all the counties in that quarter of the state, and the enthusiasm that prevailed was almost boundless.

Hon. Simon Cameron presided, and speeches were made by Cassius M. Clay, Gov. Reeder, Hon. A. G. Curtin, and quite a number of others.

City Bonds.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Mr. Sleeper says, in his communication of Saturday, relative to the suit on these bonds, that when any decision has been had in the case, "some notice has appeared in the public prints calculated to soften the fall of the bond holders and create a fear in the minds of our citizens that something was going to happen to fix the liability of the city to pay these bonds."

I don't think the fall of the bond holders in this case will need much "softening." They are certainly able to endure all such falls. I think it is the fall of the city that needs softening, for it has fallen a great distance and very heavily.

There are eighty-seven bonds of $1,000 each outstanding, issued to the Valley road. These bonds are held by various parties who bought them relying upon the faith of the city which was pledged for their payment. In some cases persons of slender means have bought them, paying almost par. No one questions that the Valley road, which these bonds were issued to aid, has benefitted this city twice the amount of its bonds. And no one questions our ability to pay, for our taxable property is assessed at about $2,000,000, and is worth twice that sum.

And yet this city repudiates these bonds. Not because the road has not benefitted the city, not because she is unable to pay, but simply because the city was mistaken as to the condition of the road to which these bonds were issued. If the credit of the Valley road had been beyond question, there would have been no need of issuing city bonds. If any man were to give his note to his neighbor to get discounted for the purpose of aiding him, with the understanding that the neighbor was to pay the note when due, I suppose all men would say that the maker should in honor pay his note at maturity, even if the person to whom he gave it had become insolvent;—that he should pay it because when he gave it he intended third parties should purchase it, relying upon the promise it contained and the faith it pledged. So this city intended the world should rely upon the faith it pledged for the payment of these bonds, regardless of the condition of the Valley road. If the city was cheated by the Valley road, who should suffer,—this city, who deliberately contracted to pay these bonds, and who expected to rely upon the Valley road for indemnity, or the innocent holder who purchased upon the strength of the public faith of the city?

This repudiation has disgraced this city, and to-day, abundantly able as she is to pay all her debts, her bonds for educational purposes cannot be sold for seventy-five cents on the dollar. They were hawked about the eastern market by a late mayor, and spurned by every capitalist. They had no confidence in our public faith. And so it will be for a long time to come, and so it ought to be. I suspect that it is the fall of the city that needs softening.

I herewith furnish you with the decision of the supreme court on the Madison bonds. From this your readers can see what has been decided on the point of subsequent ratification.

But Mr. Sleeper says the common council could not issue valid bonds without a vote of the people. In Knox Co. vs Aspinwall, 21 How. 539, where the act authorized a county to subscribe stock if the voters at an election to be held should decide so to do, the supreme court of United States decided that those dealing in the bonds of the county were not bound to look beyond the face of the bonds to see if the conditions upon which the act authorized the subscription to be made had been complied with; that it was sufficient if the act authorized the issuing the bonds upon certain conditions, and the bonds recited that they were executed and issued in pursuance of the act. Our supreme court, in the suit on our city bonds, expressly affirmed this doctrine of the supreme court of the United States.

Judge Orton, who decided the case at Jefferson, thought there was no difference between the Madison bonds and the Janesville bonds so far as the question of ratification was concerned, and that Mr. Sleeper's position was not sound. To this I have only to add that, Judge Orton after deciding against the city on the only point in the case, beat the plaintiffs and decided the action upon a distinction which I believe Mr. Sleeper agrees with me does not exist. If the city is satisfied with its prospects of success, the plaintiffs are also satisfied. I regard the case as already decided by the supreme court.

GEO. B. ELY.

Simeon Mills respondent, against Ezra H. Gleason, Treasurer, &c., appellant.

In the case of Clark vs. the city of Janesville, the majority of the court held that the charter of that city was a public, and therefore a general law, within the meaning of the constitutional provision that no general law should be in force till published. The charter of the city of Madison was not published until after the issue of the bonds, whose validity is questioned in this suit, and the case would therefore be governed by that decision, unless as is claimed on the other side, the city after it did acquire an existence as such by the publication of the charter, did some act ratifying the issue of the bonds so as to bind itself. This ground of objection, is one of a technical character, and although it must prevail where the case comes within it, yet a stronger case could not well be presented for applying the doctrine that a subsequent ratification will render valid acts that in point of strict law were unauthorized when they were done. This is a familiar rule in the case of individuals. If a man without any authority assumes to act as the agent of another, although the act, as to the other, is of no validity, yet if he subsequently ratifies it and adopts it, and receives the benefit of it, he is as much bound as though he had authorized it in the first instance, and we think this principle applicable to this case.

Here everything was done necessary to authorize the issuing of the bonds, except the publication of the charter, all the parties, however, supposing it to be in force. If after it was in force the city received the proceeds and appropriated them to its use, and recognized the validity of these bonds, we could not well imagine a case more fit for the application of this rule. And we think the following authorities fully justify its application: Charitable Society vs. Episcopal Church in Dedham, 1 Pick 172, Edwards vs. The Grand Junction Railway Company 7th Sim. 85, and Gooday vs. Railway Company 15 E. L. & Eq. 596. In the last case, the master of the rolls, referring to the previous cases, says that they "establish the principle that whenever a third party enters into a contract with the plaintiff, and the defendant takes the benefit of it, he is bound to give the plaintiff the advantage he has contracted for. Upon looking into the cases it will be seen that the rule was established upon these facts. The projectors of a railway company had made contracts prior to its organization, which the company when organized, received the benefit of. And it was held that they thereby became bound by the contract.—The facts in this case are similar in character, or if anything stronger in favor of the rule, for here the parties all acted in the full belief that the charter was in force.

It appears from the evidence that the proceeds of the bonds went into the treasury of the city, and were expended by it, and that after the charter was in force, their validity was recognized by levying a tax for the payment of the interest. We think this ratifies them and binds the city, provided it would have been bound if the charter had been in force at the time they were issued.

Late News.

Large quantities of wheat and rye have recently been bought in France and Austria by English speculators.

The people of New Mexico have held a convention to take measures to protect themselves from the depredations of the Indians, and have resolved to raise a thousand volunteers. There is so much dissention among the officers of the regular army in that territory, that no dependence can be placed upon them.

H. V. Johnson attended a Douglas meeting at Philadelphia on Saturday, but was so hoarse as to speak with difficulty. He will make a tour through the state of Pennsylvania, to enlighten the people, we suppose upon the policy of owning their laborers. A resolution was adopted at this meeting denouncing fusion and in favor of the straight Douglas ticket.

The Douglas sub-committee of the state of New York has declined the proposal of the Breckinridgers to put ten of their men upon the electoral ticket. The latter have published an address declaring that they will support their own ticket with all the energy they can command.

Walker, the fillibuster, and his army have been captured at Truxillo, by the British war steamer Icarus and delivered over to the people of Honduras. Walker und Col. Rudley were to be shot.

There are efforts made in California to unite the Douglas and Bell-Everett forces upon one ticket. The principal counties in the state have nominated members of the legislature, and the Douglas men are all pledged against Gwin.

There was a terrible storm at New Orleans, and along the gulf as far as Pensacola, on Saturday. Several lives were lost, and property to the amount of $500,000 destroyed.

Boardman, Gray & Co.'s piano factory at Albany was destroyed on Saturday night. Loss $50,000, covered by insurance.

While a republican meeting was being held at Hannibal, Mo., Tuesday night, at which Frank Blair was speaking, repeated attempts were made to interrupt it by throwing rocks and eggs at the speakers, and by hurrahing for Douglas, Bell and Everett, and Breckenridge.

Gen. Jo Lane is in Indiana, looking up votes.

One hundred and twenty-four bodies of the victims of the Lady Elgin disaster have been recovered.

☞ When the democracy are badly beaten in any of the state, they forthwith blazon their defeat as a great gain. The Chicago Times and Herald says there were large gains for the democracy at the recent election in Maine, where the republicans have a majority of 20,000; and proceeds to extract an immense amount of comfort from the circumstance. We trust they will meet with similar success in every state in the Union.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald pretends to have discovered a tremendous plot on the part of Lincoln's friends to take possession of the general government and turn out of public employment, neck and heels, the pro-slavery democracy of the country! We are inclined to think there is some truth in it, and that there are a great many people engaged in it. They propose to make their first demonstration on the 6th of November next. That will be a dreadful day for the democracy.

ONE THOUSAND ORPHANS.—The Milwaukee Sentinel says, there are now about a thousand orphans in that city, rendered so by the Lady Elgin calamity. Many of these children are thrown upon the charity of the community.

☞ I. E. Messmore, Esq., has been nominated by the republicans to represent the La Crosse assembly district in our state legislature.

ANOTHER ACCESSION.—Peter V. Sang, of Fond du Lac county, who has been an active working democaat for eighteen years, declares his intention to vote for Lincoln and Hamlin, next November.

Many who would not for the world utter a falsehood, are yet eternally scheming to produce false impressions on the minds of others, respecting facts, characters, and opinions.

A MAN SENTENCED TO BE HUNG FOR CIRCULATING THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE.—Some time since a very respectable and well known citizen of St. Louis, named Henry A. Marsh, established a news depot at some point in Texas. Subsequently he established other depots in Camden, Ark., and Memphis, Tenn. A few days since he received an order at his Camden depot for fifty copies of the New York Tribune. As a matter of business, Marsh undertook to fill the order, and the package arrived in due course of time, while he was absent at Memphis. It having been noised about Camden that the Tribune was about being circulated, through the medium—indirectly however—of Marsh, a committee of three men was appointed to go after Mr. Marsh and bring him back to Camden. Accordingly they proceeded on their mission, and, one night, captured their unsuspecting victim, in Memphis, and conveyed him on board a steamer, and locked him in a state room. The captain of the steamer, on learning their intention, refused to convey the party, and they were obliged to convey their captive across the river in a yawl. Arriving in Camden, Mr Marsh was arraigned on the charge of circulating seditious and incendary documents, was convicted and sentenced to be hung. Time was, however, given him to send for his wife, and permission granted him to procure from citizens of St. Louis a certificate of former good character, respectability and loyalty. The wife of Mr. Marsh arrived in this city, en route for Camden, and is stopping at Barnum's Hotel, awaiting the completion of a petition already signed by many well known citizens, of all political parties, for the relief of the unfortunate man, whose only crime is embraced in the faithful discharge of his business relations. Mrs. Marsh will leave for Camden to-day with the petition numerously signed, with the heartfelt prayer of the citizens of St. Louis for the safety of her husband from the hands of his fanatical fire-eating captors.—St. Louis Democrat.

THE PRINCE OF WALES AND THE ORANGEMEN.—The orangemen of Canada West, who are bitter enemies of the Roman Catholics, have caused the Prince of Wales some trouble in his tour. Inasmuch as the Catholics in Quebec, Montreal and other places had been permitted to figure in the receptions, with a display of the insignia of their religion, these Orangemen, who have special decorations of orange and blue for public occasions, thought to make a counter demonstration at Toronto, Kingston, and a few other towns. In consequence, the prince refused to land at these places, whereat there was intense indignation among the Orangemen. Perhaps it would have been better in the first place not to have permitted the Catholics to have made any special demonstration as such. The feud between the Orangemen and the Catholic Irish is as deep and lasting as an Indian's revenge, and the Prince's advisers did the next best thing when they discountenanced the Orange demonstration. Subsequently the matter was arranged, the Orangemen subsided, and the Prince went to Toronto, and laid a foundation stone for a statute to the Queen.

LADY BYRON'S HEIR.—The London correspondent of the Manchester Guardian writes as follows:

I happened in a recent letter to mention the curious fact that the son and heir of Lord Lovelace, now by Lady Byron's death, Baron Wentworth, and heir to the very large landed property bequeathed by the poet's widow, is now working at Woolwich Arsenal, as a smith, at weekly wages. My friend of the Independence Belge, in an almost textual translation of the whole letter which contained this paragraph, heightens the interest of this statement about the grandson of Lord Byron, by adding: "His pay is thirty shillings a week. I have seen him at work in the shop with as much pluck and industry as any of his mates.—Between ourselves, there is at the bottom—or rather at the top—of this eccentric proceeding a young and pretty girl of the lower orders, whom his lordship is unwilling to abandon, even to live in the highest and most envied sphere of society."

I need hardly say that this is pure invention on the part of my indefatigable translator. There is no "young and pretty girl of the lower orders" in the affair at all. The young nobleman in question ran away from school at an early age, was missing for several years, in spite of large rewards offered for the discovery of him, bound himself apprentice to a coaster, underwent much hardship in the miserable position of cabin boy aboard a north country collier, was even at one time reduced to the workhouse at a little town in Yorkshire; and finally, when discovered by his relatives, preferred to win his bread by the work of his hands as a boltmaker at Woolwich arsenal, where he is still, or was very recently, working. He often, while in this employment, walked up to Lord Byron's seat, near Ham, and remained over Sunday, his day of leisure, as a guest, but always was careful to return to Woolwich in time to begin his work on Monday morning. I may add that though I have not seen him at work in the arsenal, a near relative of mine has seen him on the trudge from Woolwich to Ham—a fine, stout, handsome young man—in blue pea jacket, long boots, and a wide-awake, with a short pipe stuck through the band.

THE HAIR.—One of the most elegant compounds for promoting the growth of hair, says M. Cap, is beef marrow, 2 ounces; spirituous extract of cartharides (made by evaporating the tincture) 8 grains; rose oil 1 drachm; essence of lemon 50 drops.—This should be rubbed on the head or scalp twice a day until it becomes sore, then not quite so often. General Twiggs' very popular hair wash is:—sulphur lotum, 1 ounce; sugar of lead, ½ ounce; rose water, 4 ounces. Shake the above, apply it and rub your hair twice or three times a week. The above will restore hair prematurely grey.

YOUNG AMERICA FOREVER!

"Come one, come all, this Rock shall fly
From its firm base, as soon as I."

SUCH were the stirring words of James Fitz James to the bold chieftain, Rhoderick Dhu, in the Mountain Passes of Scotland, and now

MOSES HARSH,
Proprietor of the Original Young America CLOTHING HOUSE,
adopts the language of the gallant Scottish hero as his own, and defies the competition and braggart blowing of all the Petty Slop Shops
in the land. From the fact that the Original Young America Clothing House has held for the last EIGHT YEARS
the conceded reputation of being the best and largest and, above all, the Cheapest Establishment of its kind in the state. That during that time other Clothing Stores have attempted to compete with it in this city, and one after another have busted. The proprietor of the Oldest Clothing House in the City
feels that he has now the right to say it is as firmly fixed as a rock and as immovable as the everlasting hills. He knows the truth of what he says.

The People of Rock County are his witnesses. They will not lie; nor is he under the necessity of attempting to enforce
A BOGUS LAW
upon them, to get them to purchase their Fall and Winter Clothing from him. He has just returned from the east, where he has purchased the Largest and Best Stock of Clothing of all kinds, including the finest CLOTH COATS, CASSIMERE COATS, and the best variety of ever brought to the west. Also,

Ready Made Clothing for Men & Boy's Wear, of every description, with Pants and Vests to match, as well as any quantity of Shirts, Collars, Cravats, Handkerciefs, Stocks, Under Shirts, and every article of Wearing Apparrel that man can want.

If to "mitigate crime and alleviate the sufferings of mankind generally," by high sounding pretenses is a virtue, then the proprietor of the Original Young America Clothing House
does not claim that virtue. He is ready to do what he promises, THE PEOPLE KNOW IT, and the thousands who have purchased, for years, their Clothing from him, from the best quality of Hats and Caps
down to Draws and Socks, never would know what the words
"EXTRAVAGANT PRICES," meant, were they not to stray accidentally into other establishments pretending to compete with him.

His Merchant Tailoring Department is unsurpassed, and his accomplished cutter,
MR. A. B. MC'LEAN, who is at the head of it, is a gentleman of long experience and most excellent taste; the well dressed gentlemen of this city are walking witnesses of his conceded skill. Come then, one and all, if you want
CHEAP CLOTHING,

Assembly District Convention.

The Republicans of Assembly District No. 5 will meet in convention by their delegates on SATURDAY, October 6th, at Orford, at 2 o'clock P. M., to nominate a candidate to represent said district in the next legislature. The several towns will be entitled to the following number of delegates:

Rock,	3	Plymouth,	3
Spring Valley,	3	Magnolia,	3
Newark,	3	Avon,	2

ORRIN GUERNSEY,
K. W. BEMIS, } Dist. Com.
D. ALCOTT,

Rock, Sept. 8th, 1860.

Mr. Hanchett's Appointments.

We learn from the Platteville Witness, that Hon. Luther Hanchett, the republican nominee for congress in this district, will address the people at

Hazel Green, Wednesday,	Sept. 26,	1 P. M.
Platteville, "	"	" evening
Wingville, Thursday,	"	27
Lancaster, Friday,	"	28
Tafton, Saturday	"	29

Mr. Hanchett has written that he will visit Madison, and speak there about the 1st of October. He will probably be in Janesville soon after.

State Firemen's Association.

There will be a state meeting of the firemen of Wisconsin, at the City Hall, in the city of Madison, on Thursday evening, September 27th, at 7 o'clock, to take into consideration the propriety of organizing a State Firemen's Association, and for such other business as they may deem proper.—Each engine, supply hose, and hook and ladder company in the state, will be entitled to three members in said meeting. It is hoped that every company in the state will be represented at this meeting.

Papers published where there is a fire department please copy.

JOHN C. SPENCER, Ch'n Com.
Janesville, Sept. 18th, 1860.

POSITION OF JUDGE DIXON.—Some days since we stated on the authority of the Portage City Record that Judge Dixon had declared his intention to vote for Lincoln and Hamlin. This the Madison Patriot denied, by saying that Judge Dixon declared to its editors that he had no recollection of making such a statement to the editors of the Record. The Madison Journal corroborates the essential part of the statement of the Record by saying—"We also know from Judge Dixon himself that he intends to vote for Lincoln and Hamlin."

AID TO KANSAS.—An agent from Kansas, is in Chicago for the purpose of procuring seed wheet for the parched and empoverished region of that territory, where the the crop has been cut off. The city has contributed $300, and the citizens about as much more, and it is intended to increase the amount sufficient to buy 1,000 bushels of wheat.

RECOVERY OF THE BODIES.—One of the saddest incidents connected with the loss of the Lady Elgin is the recovery of the bodies of the unfortunate victims. Inmost instances these bodies are so disfigured or mutilated that identification is impossible except by some portion of dress or some article found in the dress of the wearer.—Sometimes even the dress has been torn from the body, and then every means of identification is lost. The scenes about the court house in Chicago, where many of the recovered bodies are carried, are represented as heartrending. A large number of persons are constantly there, searching for lost relatives or friends. Many of these have responded to the calls of duty or affection, without the means of support while engaged in the mournful and often agonizing search, and are dependent upon sympathetic friends or strangers for their daily wants. No person can describe, and no one heart can know all the suffering from this fearful calamity. Time will never efface the remembrance of the scenes or the loss to the bereaved, and long after their recollection shall have passed from the public mind, many a heart will mourn in silence and the privacy of the family circle. May He, who in his wisdom, "doeth all things well," minister to the wounded hearts of those he has afflicted.

The Milwaukee Free Democrat of yesterday afternoon says—"The Propeller Mohawk, Capt. Pheatt, of the western transportation line, discovered nine bodies off Racine this morning, in coming down.—They were all floating, with their heads to the north. None of them were picked up by the propellor. A tug has been sent down to cruise along shore, for the purpose of picking up bodies."

☞ An agricultural society in the village of Holley, Orleans county, N. Y., has organised a monthly Market Fair on the English plan. It will be held on the second Tuesday of each month, when there will be exhibited for sale all classes of matched and single horses, for draft, carriage or other uses; also, fat and working oxen and cattle of all classes, hogs, sheep, and all articles that are products of, and used on a farm. We have often wondered that this very cheap and sensible way of bringing buyer and seller together, has not been more extensively acted upon in this country. We shall not be surprised to see the Orleans county precedent extensively followed.

FIRST DAY OF THE COUNTY FAIR.—We are well pleased to learn that the entries at the county fair to day were quite numerous, and that in the departments of fruits and vegetables the number and variety presented for competition exceeds those of any previous fair during the first day. The prospects of the success of the fair may therefore be considered as flattering.

☞ Harper, Godey, Peterson and Arthur's magazines for October, received at Newell's bookstore.

FRUIT GROWER'S ASSOCIATION.—This body will hold meetings at Madison, on the 24th to 59th of September inclusive, in connection with the fair of the state agricultural society. Those interested in the cultivation of fruit will find in this association much to interest and improve their minds in relation to this important branch of agriculture.

☞ We notice that several old dead trees standing in close proximity to the public streets, are being cut down. One on the vacant lot by the academy building was removed yesterday, and its absence adds to the appearance of the grounds.

☞ Mr. Albert J. Russell, a young man in our employ, had his left hand badly hurt last evening, by being caught between the bed of the Ruggles jobber and the feed-board. The inside of the hand was split open, and the fingers considerably bruised. No bones were broken, although it is singular that there were none, as the press was being run at a fast rate of speed.

☞ For three or four days past the flag of Hook and Ladder company has been flying at half mast.

A CHICAGO STORE.—We call attention to the store of Burley & Tyrell of Chicago.—Their house is the oldest established in the crockery line in the north-west, and they enjoy a highly enviable reputation in every respect. Their stock comprises every article in the way of crockery, glass, etc., from the cheapest to the most expensive imported, and unequaled west of New York. *

☞ M. A. Porter, one door below the post office, has the best fruit of the season. Try him and his apples.

☞ Any person having lost a good knife, can hear of its whereabouts by enquiring at this office.

SILK CAPE FOUND.—A silk cape was found in the street to-day and left at this office for the owner.

FIFTH ASSEMBLY DISTRICT.—The attention of the republicans of the fifth assembly district is directed to the call for the assembly convention in that district. As published last week it was imperfect. This week the necessary corrections have been made, and the call is now as it should be.

☞ We learn that Mr. William Zuill, of Johnstown, was the person injured at the railroad collision at Delevan, and not Mr. Johnson as was at first reported to us.—Mr. Zuill is very badly hurt, and his recovery is extremely doubtful. He is one of our most enterprising farmers, and took great interest in the prosperity of our county agricultural society. We hope the fears of his friends are not well grounded, and that he will recover from the effects of the injuries he has received.

A CARD.

We challenge the Union to produce a more splendid lot of Fancy Dress Silks than we are now opening, the style and quality are far superior to any ever before received by us; in fact all our goods are selected with great care, as to pattern, quality, &c., &c.

We are now receiving over $100,000 worth of merchandize, purchased by Edward McKey, who is now in New York attending the great European sales of the season.

Look out for a mammoth hand-bill in a few days.

Janesville Wholesale Market.

Reported for the Janesville Gazette,
BY BUMP & GRAY,
GRAIN AND PRODUCE DEALERS.

JANESVILLE, SEPTEMBER 18, 1860.

The wheat market was quite active during the fore part of to-day, receipts being large, and prices, under a brisk milling demand, were firm at an advance of 2@3c on good samples. About 4500 bushels sold, of which fully 2800 bushels went to mills at a range of 78@85c, the latter figure being paid for two loads of very choice clean Rio Grande; except that, 83c was the best price paid. In the afternoon, however, under news of a decline in the lake shore and eastern market, both millers and shippers lowered their views 2@4c per bushel, selling at 78@80c for milling lots and 70@73 for shipping, closing weak at those figures. Receipts of coarse grains light and prices firm at our fall quotations.

We make up prices as follows:

WHEAT—white winter 80a90c; good to choice milling spring 76a80; common to fair shipping 70a73.

CORN—shelled at 30a32c per 60 lbs. Ear 20a25c per 70 lbs.

POTATOES—plenty at 20a25c per bushel.

BUTTER—scarce and in demand at 13a15.

EGGS—in good demand at 6a7c per dozen.

FLOUR—spring at 2,50, per 100 lbs.

H. J. TURNER, A. M., PRINCIPAL.

5th Academic Year.

THIS Institution is strictly a Family Boarding School, and is under the immediate supervision of Prof. TURNER, formerly of Utica, N. Y. Prof. Turner's long experience as a teacher, the beautiful and ample playgrounds attached to his residence and Academy, and their healthful position, recommend them to the parents who should wish to confide their children to the care of Prof. Turner, who will superintend the studies of the Institution, and give his particular attention to the modern languages. The French, being the language of the family, will be the language of the Institution.—German and Spanish are also written and spoken. Prof. Turner will guarantee that, independent of their other studies, his pupils will, at the close of the scholastic year, speak and write the French language. When pupils are far enough advanced in French, instruction will be given in Spanish or Italian.

Mrs. Turner will devote her attention to the Family Department; her kindness and long exderience qualify her well to discharge the difficult duties of that station, and she will spare no efforts to secure the comfort of all confided to her care.

The next term of the Institution commences the first day of October. For circulars, or further particulars, address,

PROF. H. J. TURNER,

What will be Done with Slavery.

A correspondent who writes a long communication to the Democrat, is in great distress at the prospect of slavery being interfered with in the states when the republicans come into power, as he thinks they will. We advise him to wait and see.—There is no use in putting himself in torment before his time comes. One thing is certain, his beloved institution will leave the territories as soon as the republicans get the power in the executive and legislative departments of the government. We think, as we have power under the constitution to make all needful rules and regulations respecting the territories, it is "needful" that an institution so barbarous in its nature and so opposed to the welfare of the people, should be prohibited wherever the national government has the power. We have too strong faith in the rights of the states to advocate for one moment the doctrine that the nation can abolish slavery in the states where it now exists. We mean, however, to starve the institution out in the states, if it can be done, by closing up all avenues for expansion, and by cutting off entirely the African slave trade. This was the policy of Washington and Jefferson, and this was their object, as we learn by their writings. If any democrat, having come to the conclusion that the republicans will be successful, desires to know what they will do, and what will be their policy, let him read the writings of Jefferson, Madison, and the early republicans. We mean to bring back the government to the policy of the fathers of the republic. That is our object.

This correspondent is not troubled about the encroachments of the supreme court.—He does not, it would seem, care if that court so changes the constitution that slavery must be protected in the free states. He is not alarmed at the prospective legalization of property in man in Wisconsin, by that court, following out its Dred Scott decision to its legitimate results. His great fear is for the south—he is alarmed for the safety of slavery, but has not a thought for freedom. We think, like Larrabee, if lived in the south, he would own slaves; and that he may follow his inclinations, we advise him to leave for that congenial region, as soon as possible.

THIRD DISTRICT.—The canvass in the 3d congressional district will be an active one. Judge Sloan, the republican candidate, has partially filled out his list of appointments, and speaks to-day at Hartford. Senator Doolittle commenced at La Crosse last Friday, and closes on the 13th of October at Newberg. Mr. Codding spoke at Ripon last Saturday, and has 22 other appointments, closing at Trempeleau on the 14th of October. Hon. A. B. Jackson, one of Mr. Sloan's competitors for the nomination, has a list of 26 appointments, and Gen. Nye of New York, will go into the district and give his aid to an old friend and neighbor.

While this work is going on, and the best feeling prevails among the republicans, no inconsiderable degree of dissatisfaction exists among the democrats with Mr. Larrabee. The prospect of Mr. Sloan's election looks fair.

☞ The republican gathering at Erie on the 12th, was grand beyond all comparison in that region. The whole north-western part of the state seems to have emptied itself upon Erie, and the lowest computation puts the number at 30,000! The people were out in their might from all the counties in that quarter of the state, and the enthusiasm that prevailed was almost boundless.

Hon. Simon Cameron presided, and speeches were made by Cassius M. Clay, Gov. Reeder, Hon. A. G. Curtin, and quite a number of others.

City Bonds.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Mr. Sleeper says, in his communication of Saturday, relative to the suit on these bonds, that when any decision has been had in the case, "some notice has appeared in the public prints calculated to soften the fall of the bond holders and create a fear in the minds of our citizens that something was going to happen to fix the liability of the city to pay these bonds."

I don't think the fall of the bond holders in this case will need much "softening." They are certainly able to endure all such falls. I think it is the fall of the city that needs softening, for it has fallen a great distance and very heavily.

There are eighty-seven bonds of $1,000 each outstanding, issued to the Valley road. These bonds are held by various parties who bought them relying upon the faith of the city which was pledged for their payment. In some cases persons of slender means have bought them, paying almost par. No one questions that the Valley road, which these bonds were issued to aid, has benefitted this city twice the amount of its bonds. And no one questions our ability to pay, for our taxable property is assessed at about $2,000,000, and is worth twice that sum.

And yet this city repudiates these bonds. Not because the road has not benefitted the city, not because she is unable to pay, but simply because the city was mistaken as to the condition of the road to which these bonds were issued. If the credit of the Valley road had been beyond question, there would have been no need of issuing city bonds. If any man were to give his note to his neighbor to get discounted for the purpose of aiding him, with the understanding that the neighbor was to pay the note when due, I suppose all men would say that the maker should in honor pay his note at maturity, even if the person to whom he gave it had become insolvent;—that he should pay it because when he gave it he intended third parties should purchase it, relying upon the promise it contained and the faith it pledged. So this city intended the world should rely upon the faith it pledged for the payment of these bonds, regardless of the condition of the Valley road. If the city was cheated by the Valley road, who should suffer,—this city, who deliberately contracted to pay these bonds, and who expected to rely upon the Valley road for indemnity, or the innocent holder who purchased upon the strength of the public faith of the city?

This repudiation has disgraced this city, and to-day, abundantly able as she is to pay all her debts, her bonds for educational purposes cannot be sold for seventy-five cents on the dollar. They were hawked about the eastern market by a late mayor, and spurned by every capitalist. They had no confidence in our public faith. And so it will be for a long time to come, and so it ought to be. I suspect that it is the fall of the city that needs softening.

I herewith furnish you with the decision of the supreme court on the Madison bonds. From this your readers can see what has been decided on the point of subsequent ratification.

But Mr. Sleeper says the common council could not issue valid bonds without a vote of the people. In Knox Co. vs Aspinwall, 21 How. 539, where the act authorized a county to subscribe stock if the voters at an election to be held should decide so to do, the supreme court of United States decided that those dealing in the bonds of the county were not bound to look beyond the face of the bonds to see if the conditions upon which the act authorized the subscription to be made had been complied with; that it was sufficient if the act authorized the issuing the bonds upon certain conditions, and the bonds recited that they were executed and issued in pursuance of the act. Our supreme court, in the suit on our city bonds, expressly affirmed this doctrine of the supreme court of the United States.

Judge Orton, who decided the case at Jefferson, thought there was no difference between the Madison bonds and the Janesville bonds so far as the question of ratification was concerned, and that Mr. Sleeper's position was not sound. To this I have only to add that, Judge Orton after deciding against the city on the only point in the case, beat the plaintiffs and decided the action upon a distinction which I believe Mr. Sleeper agrees with me does not exist. If the city is satisfied with its prospects of success, the plaintiffs are also satisfied. I regard the case as already decided by the supreme court.

GEO. B. ELY.

Simeon Mills respondent, against Ezra H. Gleason, Treasurer, &c., appellant.

In the case of Clark vs. the city of Janesville, the majority of the court held that the charter of that city was a public, and therefore a general law, within the meaning of the constitutional provision that no general law should be in force till published. The charter of the city of Madison was not published until after the issue of the bonds, whose validity is questioned in this suit, and the case would therefore be governed by that decision, unless as is claimed on the other side, the city after it did acquire an existence as such by the publication of the charter, did some act ratifying the issue of the bonds so as to bind itself. This ground of objection, is one of a technical character, and although it must prevail where the case comes within it, yet a stronger case could not well be presented for applying the doctrine that a subsequent ratification will render valid acts that in point of strict law were unauthorized when they were done. This is a familiar rule in the case of individuals. If a man without any authority assumes to act as the agent of another, although the act, as to the other, is of no validity, yet if he subsequently ratifies it and adopts it, and receives the benefit of it, he is as much bound as though he had authorized it in the first instance, and we think this principle applicable to this case.

Here everything was done necessary to authorize the issuing of the bonds, except the publication of the charter, all the parties, however, supposing it to be in force. If after it was in force the city received the proceeds and appropriated them to its use, and recognized the validity of these bonds, we could not well imagine a case more fit for the application of this rule. And we think the following authorities fully justify its application: Charitable Society vs. Episcopal Church in Deaham, 1 Pick 172, Edwards vs. The Grand Junction Railway Company 7th Sim. 85, and Gooday vs. Railway Company 15 E. L. & Eq. 596. In the last case, the master of the rolls, referring to the previous cases, says that they "establish the principle that whenever a third party enters into a contract with the plaintiff, and the defendant takes the benefit of it, he is bound to give the plaintiff the advantage he has contracted for. Upon looking into the cases it will be seen that the rule was established upon these facts. The projectors of a railway company had made contracts prior to its organization, which the company when organized, received the benefit of. And it was held that they thereby became bound by the contract.—The facts in this case are similar in character, or if anything stronger in favor of the rule, for here the parties all acted in the full belief that the charter was in force.

It appears from the evidence that the proceeds of the bonds went into the treasury of the city, and were expended by it, and that after the charter was in force, their validity was recognized by levying a tax for the payment of the interest. We think this ratifies them and binds the city, provided it would have been bound if the charter had been in force at the time they were issued.

Late News.

Large quantities of wheat and rye have recently been bought in France and Austria by English speculators.

The people of New Mexico have held a convention to take measures to protect themselves from the depredations of the Indians, and have resolved to raise a thousand volunteers. There is so much dissention among the officers of the regular army in that territory, that no dependence can be placed upon them.

H. V. Johnson attended a Douglas meeting at Philadelphia on Saturday, but was so hoarse as to speak with difficulty. He will make a tour through the state of Pennsylvania, to enlighten the people, we suppose upon the policy of owning their laborers. A resolution was adopted at this meeting denouncing fusion and in favor of the straight Douglas ticket.

The Douglas sub-committee of the state of New York has declined the proposal of the Breckinridgers to put ten of their men upon the electoral ticket. The latter have published an address declaring that they will support their own ticket with all the energy they can command.

Walker, the fillibuster, and his army have been captured at Truxillo, by the British war steamer Icarus and delivered over to the people of Honduras. Walker and Col. Rudley were to be shot.

There are efforts made in California to unite the Douglas and Bell-Everett forces upon one ticket. The principal counties in the state have nominated members of the legislature, and the Douglas men are all pledged against Gwin.

The vigilance committee at Pike's Peak are waging war against the gamblers. Two were hung on the 6th.

There was a terrible storm at New Orleans, and along the gulf as far as Pensacola, on Saturday. Several lives were lost, and property to the amount of $500,000 destroyed.

Boardman, Gray & Co.'s piano factory at Albany was destroyed on Saturday night. Loss $50,000, covered by insurance.

While a republican meeting was being held at Hannibal, Mo., Tuesday night, at which Frank Blair was speaking, repeated attempts were made to interrupt it by throwing rocks and eggs at the speakers, and by hurrahing for Douglas, Bell and Everett, and Breckenridge.

The steamer Gazelle was lost, on the rocks near Eagle Harbor, in Lake Superior, on the 10th inst. Loss $40,000—no insurance.

Gen. Jo Lane is in Indiana, looking up votes.

One hundred and twenty-four bodies of the victims of the Lady Elgin disaster have been recovered.

☞ When the democracy are badly beaten in any of the state, they forthwith blazon their defeat as a great gain. The Chicago Times and Herald says there were large gains for the democracy at the recent election in Maine, where the republicans have a majority of 20,000; and proceeds to extract an immense amount of comfort from the circumstance. We trust they will meet with similar success in every state in the Union.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald pretends to have discovered a tremendous plot on the part of Lincoln's friends to take possession of the general government and turn out of public employment, neck and heels, the pro-slavery democracy of the country! We are inclined to think there is some truth in it, and that there are a great many people engaged in it. They propose to make their first demonstration on the 6th of November next. That will be a dreadful day for the democracy.

ONE THOUSAND ORPHANS.—The Milwaukee Sentinel says, there are now about a thousand orphans in that city, rendered so by the Lady Elgin calamity. Many of these children are thrown upon the charity of the community.

☞ I. E. Messmore, Esq., has been nominated by the republicans to represent the La Crosse assembly district in our state legislature.

ANOTHER ACCESSION.—Peter V. Saug, of Fond du Lac county, who has been an active working democaat for eighteen years, declares his intention to vote for Lincoln and Hamlin, next November.

Many who would not for the world utter a falsehood, are yet eternally scheming to produce false impressions on the minds of others, respecting facts, characters, and opinions.

A MAN SENTENCED TO BE HUNG FOR CIRCULATING THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE.—Some time since a very respectable and well known citizen of St. Louis, named Henry A. Marsh, established a news depot at some point in Texas. Subsequently he established other depots in Camden, Ark., and Memphis, Tenn. A few days since he received an order at his Camden depot for fifty copies of the New York Tribune. As a matter of business, Marsh undertook to fill the order, and the package arrived in due course of time, while he was absent at Memphis. It having been noised about Camden that the Tribune was about being circulated, through the medium—indirectly however—of Marsh, a committee of three men was appointed to go after Mr. Marsh and bring him back to Camden. Accordingly they proceeded on their mission, and, one night, captured their unsuspecting victim, in Memphis, and conveyed him on board a steamer, and locked him in a state room. The captain of the steamer, on learning their intention, refused to convey the party, and they were obliged to convey their captive across the river in a yawl. Arriving in Camden, Mr Marsh was arraigned on the charge of circulating seditious and incendary documents, was convicted and sentenced to be hung. Time was, however, given him to send for his wife, and permission granted him to procure from citizens of St. Louis a certificate of former good character, respectability and loyalty. The wife of Mr. Marsh arrived in this city, en route for Camden, and is stopping at Barnum's Hotel, awaiting the completion of a petition already signed by many well known citizens, of all political parties, for the relief of the unfortunate man, whose only crime is embraced in the faithful discharge of his business relations. Mrs. Marsh will leave for Camden to-day with the petition numerously signed, with the heartfelt prayer of the citizens of St. Louis for the safety of her husband from the hands of his fanatical fire-eating captors.—St. Louis Democrat.

THE PRINCE OF WALES AND THE ORANGEMEN.—The orangemen of Canada West, who are bitter enemies of the Roman Catholics, have caused the Prince of Wales some trouble in his tour. Inasmuch as the Catholics in Quebec, Montreal and other places had been permitted to figure in the receptions, with a display of the insignia of their religion, these Orangemen, who have special decorations of orange and blue for public occasions, thought to make a counter demonstration at Toronto, Kingston, and a few other towns. In consequence, the prince refused to land at these places, whereat there was intense indignation among the Orangemen. Perhaps it would have been better in the first place not to have permitted the Catholics to have made any special demonstration as such. The feud between the Orangemen and the Catholic Irish is as deep and lasting as an Indian's revenge, and the Prince's advisers did the next best thing when they discountenanced the Orange demonstration. Subsequently the matter was arranged, the Orangemen subsided, and the Prince went to Toronto, and laid a foundation stone for a statute to the Queen.

LADY BYRON'S HEIR.—The London correspondent of the Manchester Guardian writes as follows:

I happened in a recent letter to mention the curious fact that the son and heir of Lord Lovelace, now by Lady Byron's death, Baron Wentworth, and heir to the very large landed property bequeathed by the poet's widow, is now working at Woolwich Arsenal, as a smith, at weekly wages. My friend of the Independence Belge, in an almost textual translation of the whole letter which contained this paragraph, heightens the interest of this statement about the grandson of Lord Byron, by adding: "His pay is thirty shillings a week. I have seen him at work in the shop with as much pluck and industry as any of his mates.—Between ourselves, there is at the bottom—or rather at the top—of this eccentric proceeding a young and pretty girl of the lower orders, whom his lordship is unwilling to abandon, even to live in the highest and most envied sphere of society."

I need hardly say that this is pure invention on the part of my indefatigable translator. There is no "young and pretty girl of the lower orders" in the affair at all. The young nobleman in question ran away from school at an early age, was missing for several years, in spite of large rewards offered for the discovery of him, bound himself apprentice to a coaster, underwent much hardship in the miserable position of cabin boy aboard a north country collier, was even at one time reduced to the workhouse at a little town in Yorkshire; and finally, when discovered by his relatives, preferred to win his bread by the work of his hands as a boltmaker at Woolwich arsenal, where he is still, or was very recently, working. He often, while in this employment, walked up to Lord Byron's seat, near Ham, and remained over Sunday, his day of leisure, as a guest, but always was careful to return to Woolwich in time to begin his work on Monday morning. I may add that though I have not seen him at work in the arsenal, a near relative of mine has seen him on the trudge from Woolwich to Ham—a fine, stout, handsome young man—in blue pea jacket, long boots, and a wide-awake, with a short pipe stuck through the band.

THE HAIR.—One of the most elegant compounds for promoting the growth of hair, says M. Cap, is beef marrow, 2 ounces; spirituous extract of cantharides (made by evaporating the tincture) 8 grains; rose oil 1 drachm; essence of lemon 50 drops.—This should be rubbed on the head or scalp twice a day until it becomes sore, then not quite so often. General Twiggs' very popular hair wash is:—sulphur lotum, 1 ounce; sugar of lead, ½ ounce; rose water, 4 ounces. Shake the above, apply it and rub your hair twice or three times a week. The above will restore hair prematurely grey.

Mr. Hanchett's Appointments.

We learn from the Platteville Witness, that Hon. Luther Hanchett, the republican nominee for congress in this district, will address the people at

Hazel Green, Wednesday, Sept. 26, 1 P. M.
Platteville, " " " evening
Wingville, Thursday, " 27
Lancaster, Friday, " 28
Tafton, Saturday " 29

Mr. Hanchett has written that he will visit Madison, and speak there about the 1st of October. He will probably be in Janesville soon after.

State Firemen's Association.

There will be a state meeting of the firemen of Wisconsin, at the City Hall, in the city of Madison, on Thursday evening, September 27th, at 7 o'clock, to take into consideration the propriety of organizing a State Firemen's Association, and for such other business as they may deem proper.—Each engine, supply hose, and hook and ladder company in the state, will be entitled to three members in said meeting. It is hoped that every company in the state will be represented at this meeting.

Papers published where there is a fire department please copy.

JOHN C. SPENCER, Ch'n Com.
Janesville, Sept. 18th, 1860.

POSITION OF JUDGE DIXON.—Some days since we stated on the authority of the Portage City Record that Judge Dixon had declared his intention to vote for Lincoln and Hamlin. This the Madison Patriot denied, by saying that Judge Dixon declared to its editors that he had no recollection of making such a statement to the editors of the Record. The Madison Journal corroborates the essential part of the statement of the Record by saying—"We also know from Judge Dixon himself that he intends to vote for Lincoln and Hamlin."

AID TO KANSAS.—An agent from Kansas, is in Chicago for the purpose of procuring seed wheet for the parched and empoverished region of that territory, where the the crop has been cut off. The city has contributed $300, and the citizens about as much more, and it is intended to increase the amount sufficient to buy 1,000 bushels of wheat.

RECOVERY OF THE BODIES.—One of the saddest incidents connected with the loss of the Lady Elgin is the recovery of the bodies of the unfortunate victims. In most instances these bodies are so disfigured or mutilated that identification is impossible except by some portion of dress or some article found in the dress of the wearer.—Sometimes even the dress has been torn from the body, and then every means of identification is lost. The scenes about the court house in Chicago, where many of the recovered bodies are carried, are represented as heartrending. A large number of persons are constantly there, searching for lost relatives or friends. Many of these have responded to the calls of duty or affection, without the means of support while engaged in the mournful and often agonizing search, and are dependent upon sympathetic friends or strangers for their daily wants. No person can describe, and no one heart can know all the suffering from this fearful calamity. Time will never efface the remembrance of the scenes or the loss to the bereaved, and long after their recollection shall have passed from the public mind, many a heart will mourn in silence and the privacy of the family circle. May He, who in his wisdom, "doeth all things well," minister to the wounded hearts of those he has afflicted.

The Milwaukee Free Democrat of yesterday afternoon says—"The Propeller Mohawk, Capt. Pheatt, of the western transportation line, discovered nine bodies off Racine this morning, in coming down.—They were all floating, with their heads to the north. None of them were picked up by the propellor. A tug has been sent down to cruise along shore, for the purpose of picking up bodies."

☞ An agricultural society in the village of Holley, Orleans county, N. Y., has organised a monthly Market Fair on the English plan. It will be held on the second Tuesday of each month, when there will be exhibited for sale all classes of matched and single horses, for draft, carriage or other uses; also, fat and working oxen and cattle of all classes, hogs, sheep, and all articles that are products of, and used on a farm. We have often wondered that this very cheap and sensible way of bringing buyer and seller together, has not been more extensively acted upon in this country. We shall not be surprised to see the Orleans county precedent extensively followed.

FIRST DAY OF THE COUNTY FAIR.—We are well pleased to learn that the entries at the county fair to-day were quite numerous, and that in the departments of fruits and vegetables the number and variety presented for competition exceeds those of any previous fair during the first day. The prospects of the success of the fair may therefore be considered as flattering.

☞ Harper, Godey, Peterson and Arthur's magazines for October, received at Newell's bookstore.

FRUIT GROWER'S ASSOCIATION.—This body will hold meetings at Madison, on the 24th to 59th of September inclusive, in connection with the fair of the state agricultural society. Those interested in the cultivation of fruit will find in this association much to interest and improve their minds in relation to this important branch of agriculture.

☞ We notice that several old dead trees standing in close proximity to the public streets, are being cut down. One on the vacant lot by the academy building was removed yesterday, and its absence adds to the appearance of the grounds.

☞ Mr. Albert J. Russell, a young man in our employ, had his left hand badly hurt last evening, by being caught between the bed of the Ruggles jobber and the feed-board. The inside of the hand was split open, and the fingers considerably bruised. No bones were broken, although it is singular that there were none, as the press was being run at a fast rate of speed.

☞ For three or four days past the flag of Hook and Ladder company has been flying at half mast.

A CHICAGO STORE.—We call attention to the store of Burley & Tyrell of Chicago.—Their house is the oldest established in the crockery line in the north-west, and they enjoy a highly enviable reputation in every respect. Their stock comprises every article in the way of crockery, glass, etc., from the cheapest to the most expensive imported, and unequaled west of New York.

☞ Any person having lost a good knife, can hear of its whereabouts by enquiring at this office.

SILK CAPE FOUND.—A silk cape was found in the street to-day and left at this office for the owner.

FIFTH ASSEMBLY DISTRICT.—The attention of the republicans of the fifth assembly district is directed to the call for the assembly convention in that district. As published last week it was imperfect. This week the necessary corrections have been made, and the call is now as it should be.

☞ We learn that Mr. William Zuill, of Johnstown, was the person injured at the railroad collision at Delevan, and not Mr. Johnson as was at first reported to us.—Mr. Zuill is very badly hurt, and his recovery is extremely doubtful. He is one of our most enterprising farmers, and took great interest in the prosperity of our county agricultural society. We hope the fears of his friends are not well grounded, and that he will recover from the effects of the injuries he has received.

A CARD.

We challenge the Union to produce a more splendid lot of Fancy Dress Silks than we are now opening, the style and quality are far superior to any ever before received by us: in fact all our goods are selected with great care, as to pattern, quality, &c., &c.

H. J. TURNER, A. M., PRINCIPAL.

5th Academic Year.

THIS Institution is strictly a Family Boarding School and is under the immediate supervision of Prof. TURNER, formerly of Utica, N. Y. Prof. Turner's long experience as a teacher, the beautiful and ample play-grounds attached to his residence and Academy, and their healthful position, recommend them to the parents who should wish to confide their children to the care of Prof. Turner, who will superintend the studies of the Institution, and give his particular attention to the modern languages. The French, being the language of the family, will be the language of the Institution.—German and Spanish are also written and spoken. Prof. Turner will guarantee that, independent of their other studies, his pupils will, at the close of the sholastic year, speak and write the French language. When pupils are far enough advanced in French, instruction will be given in Spanish or Italian.

Mrs. Turner will devote her attention to the Family Department; her kindness and long exderience qualify her well to discharge the difficult duties of that station, and she will spare no efforts to secure the comfort of all confided to her care.

BENTON'S CIGARS!

puff themselves, and as he is now upon his 'own hook,' he is determined that they shall be better and more acceptable to the public than ever. The people will now know where tobacco of all kinds and in all shapes, of the choicest variety, may be found. BENTON'S IS THE PLACE. Give him a call.
